The Pledge

India is my country and all Indians are my brothers and sisters
I love my country and I am proud of its rich and varied heritage
I shall always strive to be worthy of it
I shall give respect to my parents, teachers and all elders
And treat everyone with courtesy
To my country and my people I pledge my devotion
In their well being and prosperity alone,
Lies my happiness.

KUMARAN ASAN

Mahakavi Kumaran Asan, the great poet laureate of Kerala was born in 1873 at Kayikkara, a coastal village near Trivandrum. He had his early education in Sanskrit under reputed scholars in his village. He continued his study of Sanskrit, Tamil and Vedic Philosophy and mastered Yoga and Advaita at Aruvippuram in the hermitage of Sree Narayan Guru. He studied English from the Sanskrit college at Bangalore (1895) and acquired a degree in Tharkasastra from Central Hindu College, Calcutta (1897).

The year 1900 marks the beginning of Asan's brilliant literary career. His earliest poems were purely devotional. Veena Poovu (1908), Nalini (1911), Leela (1914) and Chinthavishtayaya Sita (1919) are the outstanding examples of his introspective, self-oriented studies. His famed later works "Duravastha" and "Chandalabhiksuki" and "Karuna" showed the poet more as a rebel and fighter against injustice and exploitation.

Kumaran Asan served as the General Secretary of S.N.D.P.(Sree Narayana Dharma ParipalanaYogam) for 15 years since its inception and later as the president. He received the title 'Mahakavi' from the Prince of Wales. The Poet, like Shelley, was destined for a watery grave. In his fifty first year, when he was at the height of his poetic genius, he was drowned in a boat accident at Pallana, 24 kms south of Allepey, Kerala. The river side grave where his mortal remains lie, is a place of pilgrimage, celebrated as "Kumara Kodi".
