Kavita Ma'am's support fostered a sense of togetherness among students. Even the occasional punishments from teachers, delivered with a positive intent, instilled discipline and taught valuable life lessons. Beyond the subjects, it was this mix of guidance, real-life examples, and camaraderie that made my time at Asan Memorial uniquely enriching”

"Reflecting on my BBA college years (2000 – 2003) is like flipping through the pages of a cherished novel, each chapter brimming with growth, challenges, and unforgettable moments. My time at Asan Memorial College was nothing short of transformative.

The campus, with its majestic architecture and vibrant energy, became the backdrop to the most formative years of my life. The faculty members were not just educators; they were mentors who ignited my curiosity and passion for learning. A few notable faculty members of BBA department are Ms.Vanaja Ma'am, Mr.Yethiraj Sir, Mr.Nagarajan Sir, and Mr.Rajendran Sir... Their guidance transcended textbooks, fostering critical thinking, and shaping my worldview. I actively took part in all the department, college and inter-college activities with the support and guidance of my faculty members.

What truly set my college experience apart was the diverse tapestry of friendships that enriched my journey. The college wasn't just a place of academic pursuit; it was a crucible for self-discovery. The extracurricular activities, clubs, and events allowed me to explore my interests beyond the classroom. These experiences cultivated skills, resilience, and a sense of purpose that extends far beyond the boundaries of the campus.

As I walked across the stage on graduation day, I couldn't help but feel a profound sense of gratitude. My alma mater had not only equipped me with knowledge but had also nurtured my character, instilling values that guide me to this day. The old college stands as a symbol of growth, friendship, and the endless possibilities that unfold when one embraces the journey of education.

In essence, Asan Memorial College was more than an institution; it was a transformative sanctuary that sculpted the foundation of my identity. I am forever indebted to the experiences, relationships, and lessons that have become the cornerstone of who I am today.

In my entire life where I am proud of myself specially on my decision making is that I opted to choose and decide to enroll myself in Asan memorial college chennai in the department of BBA.

I still remember I was 18 years old when I took the decision to join Asan memorial college and was not sure how I am going to adjust as I was been raised in north india during my childhood but only good thing that I had with me was being born as a tamilian.. so there was no language barrier .

Most of the time we think when we get in a college just focus on your studies, get the relevant degree, attend graduation ceremony and get a good on campus interview and just settle down ..

But this institution has a overall different curriculum where students are identified the key potential personalities traits and give a new kick start..

For me specifically my personality got changed because of the trust and confidence that my department faculty had on me , specifically Ms Vanaja (HOD) , she could easily see in me the future brightness , and I always took the opportunity whenever she gave and I made sure I justified to the fullest ..

I left from my institution as best outgoing student in my department, that would have nothing been possible without my department support and college other staff.

Till today my teachers remember me and bless me , and I am happy that more students like me will get moulded and see huge differences in their personality when they come out from there.

I share credit of my successful life to the college department faculty members

Ms Vanaja

Ms Kavitha

Mr Yethiraj

Thanks for always supporting me and having a faith in me ..

You will be always remember and till my next generation.

I whole heartedly pray for wellbeing in their personal life , heath and prosperity for my teachers and college and other department staffs .
